Mike opens the meeting to a weak applause. He hopes everyone is excited to be at the RPI TV meeting; tomorrow will be awesome because we will be filming Soccer at ECAV. The setup will be slightly more complicated than Football, we will be sending our video feed to the video wall. We will be meeting at 4:30p, the game starts at 7:30p.

This Friday we will be filming Men's Hockey vs. Yale, and Saturday will be Men's Hockey vs. Brown. Both of these games start at 7:00p, and we will be meeting at the closet at 4:00p both days. On Saturday, we will also be filming the Dance Team performance, which starts at 1:00p. We will be meeting at 10:00a for this event.

If anyone will be late to any events, it is crucial that you give an officer a call so we can get you past security and into the event.

Operations committee report: Scott informs everyone that "the club is operating", and Brian hopes everyone had a safe Halloween.

Make sure to tell all of your friends that the games this weekend will be broadcasted on Campus Channel 6, as well as on B2 networks.

Scott would like to tell all members with flu-like symptoms to please not attend any events. Everyone gives Mackenzie Sullivan a round of applause for not attending tonight's business meeting on account of her feeling ill.

If anyone has any suggestions on improving an aspect of RPI TV, feel free to let us know.

Dan on productions: We are doing a lot of sports this week, which will take up a lot of our time, but will be awesome in the end. Our links are slowly spreading across the Internet as well. We have the footage for the west-campus construction news story ready to be edited; this includes an interview with one of the people involved. Shirley Ann Jackson will be giving a town hall meeting this week as well, which we can film and put together as a news story. If anyone would like to be on the news mailing list, please let us know and you will receive updates about news-related productions. Each year around GM week, RPI TV runs a film festival. This year, Dan would like to organize some volunteers to plan the event early.
